Help Operation Food Search win one of Toyota's 100 Cars for Good!

On Sunday, July 31, 2011, steer your browser to Facebook.com/Toyota and head to the Cars for Good tab to vote for Operation Food Search!

OFS is excited to be one of 500 finalists in Toyota's 100 Cars for Good contest and have a one-in-five chance to win. We are one mile closer to obtaining the vehicle we need for our Cooking Matters team, but we need your help to cross the finish line!

Our dietitians and their volunteers travel a 75-mile radius within the bi-state region with food and supplies to ensure that more than 4,000 low-income adults and children receive proper education about nutrition, food preparation and savvy food purchasing. Nutrition education is an important part of any long-term strategy to end hunger. Reliable, secure transportation is needed to safely bring hands-on classes on low-cost healthy food preparation to local communities most in need.

Encourage your friends and co-workers to vote! We promise to do our part to encourage lifelong healthy eating habits in others!

On Sunday, July 31st go to Facebook.com/Toyota and click on the Cars for Good tab to vote for Operation Food Search!

Make the Last Saturday in July Count!

Please help us make our goal to collect 100,000 food items for local food pantries at the 3rd annual SATURDAY JUBILEE FOOD DRIVE July 30, 2011.

More of our neighbors are experiencing something many never thought possible - hunger. More than 130,000 individuals in our area rely on food pantries for their daily sustenance, many seeking help for the first time, and one-third of those served are children.

The donated food will be delivered to the Operation Food Search distribution centers to help stock our local food pantries. Last year, more than 124,000 food items were collected.

Our 250 community partner agencies (pantries, shelters and soup kitchens) are struggling to keep up with an increased demand for their services. Saturday Jubilee mobilizes local churches, businesses, civic groups and individuals to participate in a large scale food drive to end hunger.

On Saturday, July 30th more than 1,000 volunteers organized into 100 teams will position themselves outside Dierbergs, Schnucks, and some Walmart and Shop 'n Save grocery stores to greet and encourage shoppers to donate non-perishable food items during this one day, community-wide food campaign.

To be part of this campaign, please contact Karen Gladieux at (636) 544-3500 or karen.gladieux@OperationFoodSearch.org.

OFS Partnership with Saint Louis Bread Company – The Best Thing Since Sliced Bread!

Saint Louis Bread Company, Operation Food Search's long-time partner, presented a $66,341 check as part of their ongoing Operation Dough-Nation program. Placed at every cash register, the Community Breadbox collects customer donations that are partially matched by Panera.

Saint Louis Bread Company also hosted the Nourish Yourself and Your Community campaign, featuring day-long tastings of their new steak panini, breakfast sandwich and salad; plus delicious smoothies, scones and coffee. The bakery-cafes donated a portion of all signature paninis sold that day, and invited customers to make donations. This generated $5,518

Operation Backpack Wraps for 2010-2011 School Year

Adds Program Enhancement to Empower Youth with Skills, Knowledge and Confidence!

Operation Backpack just wrapped up for the 2010-2011 school year. We are pleased to report that this weekend feeding program successfully provided healthy meals and snacks to supplement the nourishment of nearly 3,000 children in the St. Louis community. At the conclusion of the school year, one-on-one student interviews were conducted and parent and school coordinator surveys were distributed and collected with very positive feedback from everyone involved. We were delighted to receive handmade thank you cards from the children showing their appreciation for Operation Backpack. The majority of the schools that participated in the backpack program will continue this fall, and we are hopeful to continue expanding Operation Backpack partner schools.

Checking out Operation Backpack food contents

Looking forward, Operation Food Search is excited to grow its nutrition and health services for backpack participants through a generous grant from the General Mills Foundation, in partnership with the American Dietetic Association Foundation and the President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports, for a program called Champions for Kids — Operation Fit and Healthy. The 90 minute Operation Fit and Healthy program combines 45 minutes of Cooking Matters ground-breaking nutrition education curriculum with 45 minutes of physical fitness instruction. The goal of this initiative is to prevent obesity-related illnesses such as heart disease and diabetes by increasing knowledge, awareness, and skills in securing and preparing nutritious foods and practicing regular exercise.

Through Champions for Kids — Operation Fit and Healthy, we look to instill youth with enthusiasm and a positive attitude for new healthy behaviors and consumption habits. We look forward to sharing this program's success in the coming months thanks to the continued support of our dedicated volunteers and generous funders.

Schnucks Says, "Here's the Beef" to OFS

While our nation and local communities persist in facing the challenges of current economic pressure, Operation Food Search continues to experience an unprecedented demand for emergency food. We work hard to provide all varieties of food – fresh, frozen, boxed, and canned – but undoubtedly, the most desired food of all is meat! Yet, as you probably know from your own experience, meat is an expensive commodity, often very difficult for us to provide.

Sometimes, though, miracles can happen when creativity is combined with a "can do" approach to problem-solving! When OFS asked Joanie Taylor, Schnucks Director of Community Relations (and an OFS board member as well) what happens to meat in a Schnucks store after the "sell by" date has passed, she lamented that unless there is a proper process to transfer the product in a way that ensures its safety and wholesomeness, it would most likely be discarded. This has been a frustration for Schnucks (and countless other supermarkets) since most of the meat is perfectly safe!

In light of federal law (the Good Samaritan Act) that allows for the donation of meat that is frozen on or before the "sell by" date and recovered by using appropriate refrigerated equipment, a new partnership was forged! Under the expert guidance of Mary Ann Goris, a member of the Schnucks corporate food safety team, and with the support of Ed Meyer, Schnucks vice president of meat and seafood, an innovative meat recovery plan was developed.

After piloting the process in two stores selected by Schnucks, the program was underway and soon expanded to twelve additional stores with still more to come in the near future. In this program, perfectly safe and wholesome meat is frozen at the store and then retrieved on a three-times-a-week schedule by a trained driver using an OFS refrigerated van. In partnership with our network of agencies, approximately 130,000 pounds of valuable protein have nourished thousands of hungry families and seniors in the last six months alone!

Because each participating store needs special racks and collection tubs, another local company, National Cart, generously stepped up to partner with Schnucks in this effort. John Unnerstall, President of National Cart, has kindly committed to donate the racks needed for the additional stores joining this program.

Thanks again to Schnucks and National Cart for being such generous and caring neighbors!

Chocolate Chip Cookie Day is Deliciously Successful!

Thanks to Cardinals athletic trainer Barry Weinberg, Cardinals players Adam Wainwright, David Freese, Jon Jay, and Daniel Descalso; Schnucks Markets, and Mike Shannon's Steaks and Seafood, the 9th annual Chocolate Chip Cookie Day netted over $6,700! Players sold cookies and signed autographs for fans to make life a bit sweeter for clients of Operation Food Search.

OFS Offers Tornado Relief

On Friday, April 22nd, a tornado ripped through parts of St. Louis leaving devastation in its path. A social worker in the Ferguson/Florissant School District had worked with Operation Backpack, and turned to OFS for assistance. Many families had lost homes and all of their possessions. Others lucky enough to have their homes intact had gone without electricity for the entire weekend, so they had to throw out spoiled food.

Operation Food Search was happy to assist the families in their tremendous time of need. The Ferguson/Florissant school district came to pick up a truck load of canned goods, produce, and personal care products to serve 950 people with donations of emergency food and personal care items to alleviate some of the burden caused by the tornado.

Many of the agencies served by Operation Food Search are continuing to help the families as they rebuild their homes and their lives.

Operation Food Search is thankful to The Boeing Company

for its presenting sponsorship of our inaugural health and wellness fair, Good Healthy Fun on Saturday, June 4, as a way to further our nutrition education outreach. We are also grateful to our wonderful fair partners, the City Manager's Office of University City, the Clarkson Eyecare Foundation, Life Fountain Healthcare, SSM Weight-Loss Institute, Delta Dental Theatre, Molina Healthcare, St. Louis Rams Cheerleaders, and KSLG 1380's Evan Makovsky of the E-MAK Show.

Those in attendance were very appreciative of the services, activities, and handouts offered!

Smooth and Timeless Sounds of Jeremy Davenport Captivate at OFS Gala

Operation Food Search is grateful to our special friends who contributed to the success of our 30th Anniversary Gala on May 14, Where Hunger Meets Hope! Kelly Becker and Skip Spielberg were outstanding in providing the vision and leadership for this lovely and festive evening. Feedback from the party was overwhelmingly positive — from the beautiful venue of Edward Jones Headquarters to the scrumptious food, featuring some recipes developed by our dietitians for our nutrition outreach program, Cooking Matters; from the art auction to the featured entertainment by jazz artist Jeremy Davenport, who got the crowd up and dancing.

The gala netted $93,018 to help provide programs and services for an increasing number of individuals and families seeking food assistance. We are extremely thankful to the sponsors, auction donors, guests and volunteers for helping us nourish some of St. Louis' most vulnerable citizens.

Fresh Fruity Fun at Onesto!

Join us from 6 p.m. until 8 p.m. on Monday August 15, 2011 at Onesto Pizza & Trattoria, 5401 Finkman in St. Louis for a SANGRIA SHOWDOWN!

Be prepared to enjoy the best as Onesto mixologist Todd Brutcher competes against Mad Tomato mixologist Jen Dormuth to see who throws the best wine punch!

It's summertime in St. Louis and the sangria is fruity! The vote is up to you to find out who will be the next Sangria Sensation! Sangria tastings are $5 each in categories of red, white and wild card! Winner announced at 8:00 p.m. Proceeds benefit Operation Food Search.

On Target and Keeping the Faith!

Operation Food Search received a call from Target employees in the middle of April. They were issued a challenge for good to give back to the community and provide 500 hours of volunteer service on May 6th, 2011. Target immediately thought of Operation Food Search, and wanted to support our mission of providing food to families in need.

We knew our facility could not accommodate all the employees that Target offered. As Operation Food Search thought about projects that needed to be done, our Agency Coordinator Julia Fuller received a call that addressed the challenge. One of our partner agencies, Keeping the Faith Ministries, was purchasing an 11,000 square foot building in North County. Pastor LaJuana McFadden had big plans to turn the building into a sanctuary, daycare, food pantry, and soup kitchen. The problem was that the building needed a lot of work.

Target loved the idea of helping to transform what was once an old nightclub into a place that would provide much-needed services to the community. Over 150 Target employees assisted Keeping the Faith Ministries in everything from demolition and painting, to cleaning and landscaping. At the end of the day, the building was completely transformed, and several Target employees committed to continue volunteering and get the food pantry up and running.

 to help fund our nutrition programs.

"We are proud to share 'Panera Warmth' with Operation Food Search throughout the year," said Don Hutcheson, Area Director. "Bread is an important part of our culture — it brings people together — and Panera is dedicated to giving back to the people who have welcomed us into their neighborhoods and invited us to share in their lives."

On a regular basis Saint Louis Bread Company volunteers work in our warehouse sorting canned goods, packaging assorted food products and packing backpacks. The company also donates day-end bakery products from their bakery-cafes that go to our pantries and feeding centers.

To say we're grateful to Saint Louis Bread Company is an understatement. The company is a great corporate citizen and has consistently been one of Operation Food Search's largest annual financial donors, providing nearly $900,000 of financial support since our partnership began in 1992.

The new Keeping the Faith Ministries is now completely operational and provides services to residents of North County. Pastor McFadden faithfully believes that God answered her prayers by bringing the Target employees to assist with the new building. Target employees agreed that it was meant to be. When they posted information about the volunteer day, they learned the address of the new Keeping the Faith Ministries – 2805 Target Drive!

JULY IS BURSTING WITH A

Throughout July, Feast Magazine and several top restaurants are celebrating the tomato and commemorating our 30th anniversary with a special dish designated to OFS:

Enjoy the culinary prowess of the Hospitalities Studies Department of St. Louis Community College – Forest Park for an amazing after golf barbeque; bid in an auction full of sports memorabilia, restaurant certificates and other coveted delights; and, to top it off chill out to hot jazz, swing, and rhythm and blues from the 1920's-1950's by Miss Jubilee and the Humdingers.

Teams are forming now and Sponsorship opportunities are available. To sign up, please contact Karen Klaus at (314) 726-5355 X 23 or karen.klaus@OperationFoodSearch.org.

TRIBUTES & MEMORIALS

March 16, 2011 – June 13, 2011

A memorial or tribute donation is a meaningful and appropriate way to remember a special person while at the same time helping others. OFS is fortunate to be the beneficiary of such thoughtfulness, making it possible for us to continue our work to feed the hungry.

When you make such a gift, we will promptly send notice of the gift to whomever you designate, without specifying the amount of the donation. You will receive a formal acknowledgment and receipt for your donation.

Tributes and memorial gifts may be made online at www.OperationFoodSearch.org, by calling (314) 726-5355 X 19, or by mailing your request along with a check made payable to Operation Food Search at 6282 Olive, St. Louis, MO 63130-3300.

FOODSTOCK: 4 hours of Art, Food and Love to Help Feed the Hungry

On Friday, September 23, experience FOODSTOCK Art Party at Mad Art Gallery, 2727 S. 12th Street in Soulard. From 6:00 p.m. until 10:00 p.m., the work of more than 50 area artists and designers will be available in an art auction that includes their unique take on metal lunchboxes and other food-themed art to help Operation Food Search provide meals for people in need.

Scott Matthews, Creative Director for XPLANE, is chairing the 2nd annual event for the AIGA-St. Louis, a professional association for design. "We're especially looking forward to helping Operation Food Search celebrate its 30th anniversary of serving people in Missouri and in Illinois and thrilled to have the proceeds from the evening stay within our community," said Matthews. "Artists at their core are typically sensitive to the needs of others and have big hearts. They can often empathize with people who struggle to be heard and to make ends meet."

Similar to last year's AIGA sellout event, Love Crush Art Party, you can also expect to find prints, paintings, mixed media, cartoons, photography and collage work. "It's exciting to unite artists of all experiences around a common theme and see their fresh approach," said Matthews. "The St. Louis arts scene is really taking off and we're looking forward to building on last year's success! Mad Art is instrumental in launching cutting-edge artists, and is the perfect venue for FOODSTOCK." For more information go to www.stlouis.aiga.org.

Good Taste Abounds at Mad Tomato!

Thanks to all who joined OFS for “The Ripening of the Mad Tomato” Italian Kitchen! Guests gathered in Clayton to enjoy a sampling of Chef Vito Racanelli’s seasonal, farm-to-table menu, fine Italian wines and desserts from pastry Chef Sally Sciaroni.

Operation Food Search also was the inaugural beneficiary of Mad Tomato’s “Communal Table,” which provides a unique dining experience for groups and families of 10 to 12 guests, with a percentage of all sales supporting the cause.

Chef Vito Racanelli offered a charcuterie feast at Mad Tomato’s opening, to benefit OFS!

Foods That’s In When School Is Out

During the school year, many children receive free and reduced-price breakfast and lunch through the School Breakfast and National School Lunch Programs. What happens when school lets out?

For the second year, Operation Food Search is sponsoring a summer feeding program at L.I.N.C., a nonprofit organization located next to a 200 family, low-income housing complex in Wentzville. Children can walk to the L.I.N.C. community center every day Monday – Friday and receive a FREE nutritious lunch...which to the kids’ delight always includes a dessert! Having proper nutrition during the summer months helps children stay healthy. Having a lunch program also helps families cope with the higher expenses the summer months can bring.

In addition to providing lunch, Operation Food Search has teamed up with local churches, the Girls Scouts of Greater St. Louis and other volunteer groups to provide activities for the children after lunch. Learning to build a pine wood derby car, playing a game of baseball, making a craft or running through the sprinkler is an added bonus! We are grateful to L.I.N.C. and all our partners who help make the summer special for these children.

Leaving a Legacy

Less than 50% of all people in the United States have a will or trust. Many of those have a document that is either invalid or out of date. Like an annual physical, we all need to regularly review our estate plan, especially if we have had a significant change in our life.

Operation Food Search is grateful to many donors who have made a planned gift to our organization. These gifts provide a lasting legacy to our important cause and may have tax advantages for an estate.

Operation Food Search recently received a generous bequest from a long-time donor. In her life, she was compassionate to help the hungry. Because she carefully planned through her will, she continues to support a cause that she deeply cared for and leaves a legacy of hope for the hungry.

Consult your attorney or financial planner to learn how to set up a bequest. Please let us know if you have included Operation Food Search in your plan so that we can thank you.

Consider Hosting a Baby Food Drive for Operation Food Search!

For many low-income families the cost of infant formula and diapers puts an extreme strain on their already tight budgets. Some are forced to add extra water to formula to help stretch until their next pay check. Others may have to make the decision on how often to change their babies diapers by the number of diapers left in the box.

Unfortunately, the supply of baby formula and diapers at local food pantries is always low, making it difficult for families that rely on them for assistance. These items are rarely donated and are too costly for pantries to purchase for their clients.

Please consider hosting a drive for newborns and toddlers to collect baby formula, food, and cereal; diapers and pull-ups; and baby wipes. Be creative and throw a “Baby Shower” and ask guests to bring a few items to be donated to a local family in need.
